

The International Philosophical Conference

EXPERIENCE – PHILOSOPHICAL PERSPECTIVES 24th ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE INSTITUTE OF PHILOSOPHY

Institute of Philosophy, Zagreb (Croatia)

3–4 December, 2020

CALL FOR PAPERS

The issues surrounding the concept of experience were – and still are – among the core issues of philosophy, related in one way or another to most philosophical subjects or disciplines. One can hardly find a significant thinker in the history of Western philosophical tradition who did not provide a particular conception or analysis of experience: from classical Greek philosophers, Medieval philosophers, modern rationalists and empiricists, German idealists, to contemporary classics, such as Russell, Moore, Husserl, Heidegger, logical positivists, and others. What is the nature or the foundation of experience? What kinds of experiences are there? What is the content of experience? What can philosophy learn from the concept of experience in other sciences? What about domain-specific experiences, such as moral, aesthetic, religious, temporal, spatial, logical, mathematical, etc.? The goal of this conference is to bring together philosophers working on the concept of experience and the role it has in various phenomena, both from contemporary and historical perspective.

The official language of the conference: English.
